

NEW ZEALAND COLLEGE OF CRITICAL CARE NURSES WEBINAR

SAVING LIVES AT SPEED

EXPLORING HAEMOSTASIS AT GROUND LEVEL

THURSDAY 28 MAY, 7PM – 8PM

SUZI RISHWORTH

Transfusion Nurse Specialist (TNS), New Zealand Blood Service (NZBS)

Join NZCCCN for a practical webinar on haemostasis in everyday care. Explore the physiology of clotting, recognise common coagulopathies, and translate theory into real-world decision-making. Gain confidence managing massive haemorrhage and learn how to interpret key tests and protocols to support rapid, safe patient care.

Suzi joined NZBS in 2003 with the national TNS project and works at the clinical end of the 'vein to vein' pathway. Based at Dunedin Hospital, she supports Otago and Southland through teaching, auditing, policy, haemovigilance, and quality improvement. Passionate about education, she translates complex transfusion practice into practical guidance. Her background includes oncology, haematology, palliative care, and district nursing in NZ and the UK. Outside work, she enjoys animals, DIY, gardening, and caravan travel.
