

Bev McClelland
Organisational Development Consultant

I arrived in New Zealand, on Good Friday, 22 years ago. I was experienced in Perioperative nursing, particularly in clinical education and managerial roles. I had had a substantial disruption of my career by the arrival of my two delightful sons, Stuart and John. My re-integration into the nursing workforce was enabled by the Return to Nursing (CAP) Program made available by CM Health. I developed both personally and professionally and completed a Masters Degree in Health Science in 2004.

For 9 years, as the Nurse Leader for the Professional Development Unit at CM Health, I led a team of highly motivated and enthusiastic Nurse Educators, Co-ordinators and Clinical Coaches, who are skilled practitioners and perform a crucial role in facilitating effective learning and professional development for all staff. At the same time, I had a joint appointment with the University of Auckland in the School of Nursing and contributed to curriculum development and course delivery for advanced nursing practice.

I am currently an Organisational Development Consultant with a current nursing practicing certificate and the purpose of my role is to support our organisation to meet the aims and objectives set out in the strategic plan. I have well developed skills in Leadership Development, Mentoring and Coaching and a deep understanding of strategies to improve patient, whanau and staff experiences.

I have a rewarding vocation and continue to enhance leadership potential and to discover best practices in healthcare.
