It's not what others think about you that will allow you to succeed. It's what you think about you that allow you to succeed. Because if you can picture yourself doing something, don't listen to anybody who tells you that you cannot. You have to just try. Otherwise you're gonna be saying should've, could've, would've, and you don't want to be saying that in your life. And if you get to the top of the mountain, share your story.
