A focus on nursing in primary and community care

When: Saturday, 11 March 2023, 8.30am – 5.00pm

Venue: Arawa Park Hotel (formerly The Rydges Hotel), 272 Fenton Street, Rotorua

The NZ College of Primary Healthcare Nurses, NZNO and the College of Nurses Aotearoa, New Zealand unite to facilitate the above symposium for all Nurses working in the primary and community health care sectors.

At this symposium we will be taking the opportunity to acknowledge the challenges that so many of you within our healthcare sector have faced over the past two years and the huge contribution you have and continue to make during this unique time. Therefore, our themes will be focusing on the health and wellness of nurses, how we can provide equity of care for our diverse populations and how we as nurses can support an environmentally sustainable healthcare

The programme includes:

• Inspirational keynote speakers discussing:

- Caring for ourselves - tools to ensure as nurses we put the health, safety and wellness of ourselves first
- Caring for our communities – equity vs inequity – impact on how we provide health care for all
- Caring for Aotearoa - what can we do to within our workplaces to ensure environmentally sustainable healthcare?

• Professional development hours awarded

• Prices:
