Consideration

Willingness to be kind, thoughtful and consider the interest of others before self.

Be nice to people on your way up because you will probably meet them on your way down! • When consideration is the sensation that sweeps the nation it will be time for a celebration • Let others learn • Make others happy when you enter a room, not when you leave it • Before thinking of yourself consider the effect of your actions on others • Become an example of how you would like the world to be

Honesty & Truthfulness

Willingness not to steal, cheat, lie or be unfair.

Honesty is the best policy • Honesty is the first chapter in the book of wisdom • If you want to be trusted, don't cover up the truth • If you tell the truth, you don't have to remember what you said • Say "No" if that's what you mean, not just "Yes" to please someone • Telling one lie spoils your reputation for telling the truth • If you add to the truth you subtract from it • When someone lies, someone loses • The truth needs no rehearsal

Duty

Willingness to do what is right or what a person ought to do; obligation.

The things that we owe, they are the things that we must do. You have a duty to be there and that means that you have to be there • The right thing to do is to do the right thing • It is never what you are the only one doing it • It is never for doing your duty believing that you have done the right thing • At school, home and in the community find out what needs to be done and then "just do it" • Live the moral, do the deed • No one needs to wait a single moment before starting to improve the world • The greatest reward for doing is the opportunity to do more • Good is a good thing, better to do the right thing

Responsibility

Willingness to be answerable, to be trustworthy and accountable for your own conduct and behaviour.

Responsibility teaches you much • With privilege comes responsibility • You are responsible for your own learning • Being responsible for your own actions is the responsibility of everyone • Whatever happens, take responsibility • It's easy to dodge our responsibilities but we cannot dodge the consequences of dodging our responsibility • You cannot lose if responsibility is what you choose
