EDUCATION FUND FEEDBACK

The relevance and worth to practice since Receiving the Women's Health College Fund.

Receipt of this fund was important on both a personal and professional level. On a personal level, the grant was enormously helpful from a financial perspective by enabling me to purchase the text books for both of my papers this year.

From a professional level, completing my Post Graduate Diploma has allowed me to complete a major step towards my Masters Qualification. The papers I have completed are:

- Physiology and Pathophysiology
- Assessment and Diagnostics
- Clinical Leadership
- Clinical Pharmacology

Not only is the knowledge I have learnt relevant to the women under my care on a daily basis, but it also prepares me for Senior Nursing roles within the service.

Working in womens' health is a unique area of nursing. As healthcare providers, we have the ability to improve health outcomes for women and their communities and whanau. Postgraduate study is enhancing my practice, which is improving the health outcomes of the women under my care, and also extending to other staff members/students when precepted by me/when acting as shift co-ordinator or Acting Charge Nurse Manager.

My resource role on the ward is for second trimester induction of labour for fetal demise. Throughout my studies, my essays, reports and research have all related to this area of practice, which has led to quality improvement from both a medical and emotional experience for women undergoing this process. Improved health and emotional outcomes lead to improved wellness outcomes for both women and their whanau.

I am grateful for and thank you for the support with this funding earlier in the year.

Kind regards

Christine Scott
