By the time you finish reading this sentence, a nurse has had to move on to their next patient. It's time for change. Ask for more.

CPRSS
Coalition for Patient Rights and Safe Staffing

The right level of staffing and the right mix of skill and experience are required to care for every patient.

cate

Building positive and healthy relationships
with employers
and colleagues will improve workplace
culture.

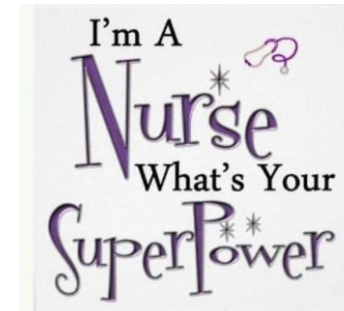

workplace culture

Quality and safe care is important.
Excellent care is always the top priority.

quality and safety

Everyone has the ability to lead. Staff should be encouraged to take roles of authority and to use the full authority of their role.

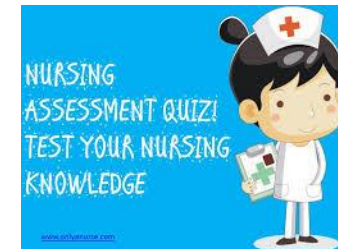

Leadership

Extending knowledge will improve patient care.
Support is required
for staff to get the knowledge and skills
needed.

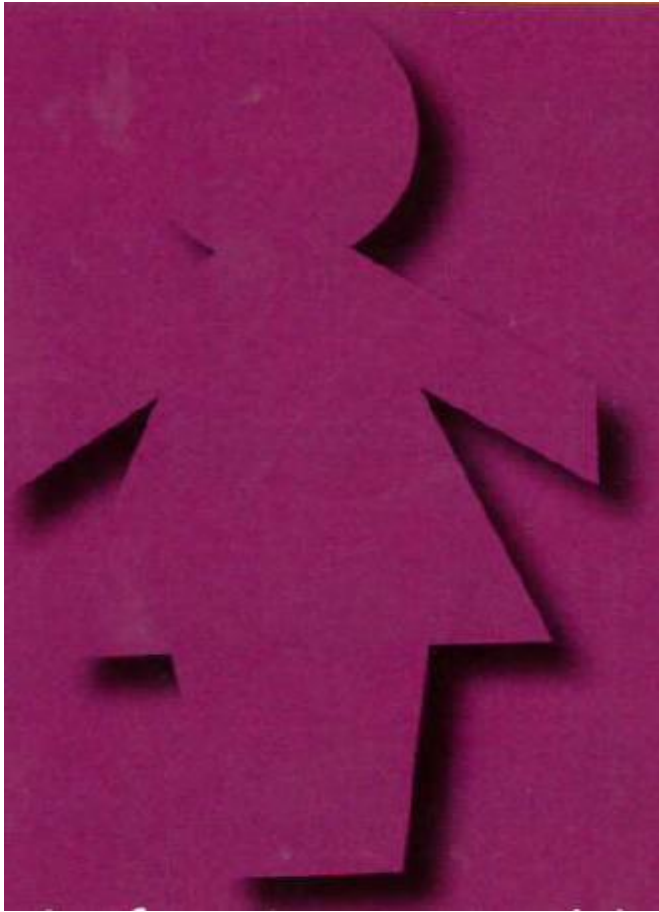

skill

Good patient outcomes
rely on a whole team.
Planning together as a team will achieve better results.

working tools

A safe environment and the right technology are important. Staff need to be involved in decisions about what's needed and where.

1. Are you aware of what is happening with safe staffing in your work place?
 2. If so, what are the barriers to progressing this work?
 3. What would it take to shift this work along?
