

Our staff are wearing
camellias on Friday 18
September because Saturday is Suffrage Day – that shining memorial to gender equality.

As a predominately female workforce, we want to highlight our struggle for pay parity.

Better funding from the Government would mean we could be paid the same as our DHB colleagues.

We are of equal value and importance, and it is unfair that we are paid an average of 10.6 percent less per year.
