28 CO-OPERATION CONSULTATION AND MANAGEMENT OF CHANGE

28.1 Introduction

28.1.1 The parties to this collective agreement recognise they have a mutual interest in ensuring that health services are provided professionally, efficiently and effectively, and that each has a contribution to make in this regard.

28.1.2 Regular consultation between the employer, its employees and the NZNO is essential on substantive matters of mutual concern and interest. Effective communication between the parties will allow for:

- (a) improved decision making
- (b) greater cooperation between employer and employees; and
- (c) a more harmonious, effective, efficient, safe and productive workplace.

28.1.3 Therefore the parties commit themselves to the establishment of effective and ongoing communications on all employee relations matters.

28.1.4 The Employer accepts that NZNO delegates are the recognized channel of communication between NZNO and the Employer in the workplace.

28.1.5 Prior to the commencement of any significant change to staffing, structure or work practices, the employer will identify and give reasonable notice to employees who may be affected and to the NZNO to allow them to participate in the consultative process so as to allow substantive input.

28.1.6 Where an employer receives an indication of potential significant changes, they undertake to advise staff and the NZNO as soon as practicable of the possibility of these changes.

28.2 Consultation

28.2.1 Consultation involves the statement of a proposal not yet finally decided upon, listening to what others have to say, considering their responses and then deciding what will be done. Consultation clearly requires more than prior notification.

28.2.2 The requirement for consultation should not be treated perfunctorily or as a mere formality. The person(s) to be consulted must be given sufficient opportunity to express their view or to point to difficulties or problems.

28.2.3 If changes are proposed and such changes need to be preceded by consultation, the changes must not be made until after the necessary consultation has taken place. Both parties should keep open minds during consultation and be ready to change. Sufficiently precise information must be given to enable the person(s) being consulted to state a view, together with a reasonable opportunity to do so – either orally or in writing.

28.2.4 Consultation requires neither agreement nor consensus, but the parties accept that consensus is a desirable outcome.

28.2.5 The consultation process will give employees affected, or likely to be affected, by any significant change to staffing, structures or work practise, and the NZNO organiser/delegate, the opportunity to put forward their views on any proposals or options developed for change prior to any final decision being made.

28.2.6 The process shall be as follows:

- (a) The initiative being consulted about should be presented by the employer as a "proposal" or "proposed intention or plan" which has not yet been finalised.
- (b) Sufficient information must be provided by the employer to enable the party/parties consulted to develop an informed response.
- (c) Sufficient time must be allowed for the consulted party/parties to assess the information and make such response, subject to the overall time constraints within which a decision needs to be made.
- (d) Genuine consideration must be given by the employer to the matters raised in the response.
- (e) The final decision shall be the responsibility of the employer.

28.3 Staff Surplus

When as a result of the substantial restructuring of the whole, or any parts, of the employer's operations; either due to the reorganisation, review of work method, change in plant (or like cause), the employer requires a reduction in the number of employees, or, employees can no longer be employed in their current position, at their current grade or work location (i.e. the terms of appointment to their present position), then the options in the subclause 22.3.3 below shall be invoked and decided on a case by case basis in accordance with this clause.

28.3.1 Where an employee's employment is being terminated by the employer by reason of the sale or transfer of the whole or part of the employer's business, nothing in this agreement shall require the employer to pay compensation for redundancy to the employee if:

The person acquiring the business or the part being sold or transferred -

- (i) has offered the employee employment in the business or the part being sold or transferred; and
- (ii) has agreed to treat service with the employer as if it were service with that person and as if it were continuous; and

(b) The conditions of employment offered to the employee by the person acquiring the business or the part of the business being sold or transferred are the same as, or are no less favourable than, the employee's conditions of employment, including:

- (i) any service related conditions; and
- (ii) any conditions relating to redundancy; and
- (iii) any conditions relating to superannuation -
- (iv) under the employment being terminated; and

(c) The offer of employment by the person acquiring the business or the part of the business being sold or transferred is an offer to employ the employee in that business or part of the business either:

- (i) in the same capacity as that in which the employee was employed by the Employer, or
- (ii) in any capacity that the employee is willing to accept.

When condition (b) is not met, the employer may offer a lump payment equivalent to what the difference between the current wage and the new wage would be over a two year period.

Where the person acquiring the business does not offer the employee employment on the basis of (a), (b) and (c) above, the employee will have access to the Staff Surplus provisions.

28.3.2 Notification of a staffing surplus shall be advised to the affected employees and their Union at least one month prior to the date of giving notice of severance or enhanced early retirement to any affected employee. This date may be varied by agreement between the parties. During this period, the employer and employee, who can elect to involve their Union Representative, will meet to agree on the options appropriate to the circumstances. Where employees are to be relocated, at least three months' notice shall be given to employees, provided that in any situation, a lesser period of notice may be mutually agreed between the employee and the employer where the circumstances warrant it (and agreement shall not be unreasonably withheld).

28.3.3 The following information shall be made available to the Union representatives in respect of affected employees they represent:

- (i) the location/s of proposed surplus
- (ii) the total number of proposed surplus employees
- (iii) the date by which the surplus needs to be discharged
- (iv) the positions, grading, names and ages of the affected employees
- (v) availability of alternative positions at Maniototo.

On request the Union representative will be supplied with relevant additional information where available.

28.3.4 Job Search

Employees will be assisted to find alternative employment by being able to have a reasonable amount of time off work to attend job interviews without loss of pay. This is subject to the team leader/manager being notified of the time and location of the interview before the employee is released.

28.3.5 Counselling

Counselling for the employee and their family will be made available as necessary.

29 HEALTH AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS

The parties to this contract express their commitment to the Agreement to Develop a System and Process for Employee Participation in Workplace Health and Safety signed on the 31st of July 2003.

The employer recognises that to fulfil their function health and safety delegates require adequate training, including unit standard 29315 (Describe the role and functions of the Health and Safety Representative in a New Zealand workplace) paid time and facilities.

The parties to this agreement recognise that effective health and safety committees are the appropriate means of providing consultative mechanisms on health and safety issues in the workplace.

30 PAY EQUITY

Pay equity and potential DHB increase:

- In the event that the NZNO Pay Equity claim in the DHB MECA increases rates of pay for those covered by it, Maniototo Health Services will meet with NZNO with a view to varying the NZNO/Maniototo Health Services collective agreement to match any increases within six weeks of ratification of the Pay Equity settlement by NZNO members employed by the DHB.

31 COMPLETENESS

This agreement replaces all previous written or verbal agreements and understandings. This is a full record of employment conditions. Any further changes shall be mutually agreed upon and added as per clause 2.0 as a variation to this agreement.

Dated this 11 day of October 20 22.
