Vol. 25 No. 7
AUGUST 2019

This month’s issue has more on nurses’ reaction to the Waitangi Tribunal recommendations and also examines how complications from surgical mesh implants have seriously affected women’s lives. There are more stories on the Māori nurses’ claims and Māori nurse claimants respond to the Waitangi Tribunal recommendations.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is the official journal of the New Zealand Nurses’ Organisation, Tōpūtanga Tapuhi Kaitiaki o Aotearoa. Views expressed are not necessarily those of NZNO. Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand, under a variety of titles, has been published continuously since 1908.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is a peer-reviewed journal. All clinical practice articles are independently reviewed by expert nurses/researchers (see below). It is indexed in the Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature and International Nursing Index.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand retains copyright for material published in the journal. Authors wanting to re-publish material elsewhere are free to do so, provided prior permission is sought, the material is used in context and provided prior permission is sought, the material elsewhere are free to do so, provided prior permission is sought, the material is used in context and the Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is acknowledged as the first publisher.

Kai Tiaki is the Māori term for carer or guardian and has always been incorporated in the title of the magazine.
