Vol. 26 No. 1
FEBRUARY 2020
GREETINGS TO all nursing students – this issue is for you! It has a focus on students and undergraduate education, with articles on clinical coaching, student mentorship and bridging the theory/practice gap. There’s also an interview with an outgoing nursing education leader. We introduce our focus on bullying, and two flight nurses talk about their experiences following the White Island/Whakaari eruption.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is the official journal of the New Zealand Nurses’ Organisation, Tōpūtanga Tapuhi Kaitiaki o Aotearoa. Views expressed are not necessarily those of NZNO. Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand, under a variety of titles, has been published continuously since 1908.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is a peer-reviewed journal. All clinical practice articles are independently reviewed by expert nurses/researchers (see below). It is indexed in the Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature and International Nursing Index.

Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand retains copyright for material published in the journal. Authors wanting to re-publish material elsewhere are free to do so, provided prior permission is sought, the material is used in context and Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand is acknowledged as the first publisher.

Kai Tiaki is the Māori term for carer or guardian and has always been incorporated in the title of the magazine.

Co-editors:
Teresa O’Connor, Anne Manchester and Mary Longmore.

Practice article review process: Clinical practice, education and research articles are critiqued for publication in Kai Tiaki Nursing New Zealand by nurses/educators/researchers with expertise in the subject area of the article, and by the co-editors.
